Career Options for Economics Majors

The Economics Department continues a series of informational panels featuring UNC alumni who currently serve on our Department Advisory Board. Each event will focus on a different industry with speakers sharing their perspectives and experiences and answering your questions.

Alumni Perspectives on Career Opportunities for Economics Majors: In Commercial Real Estate Investing & Capital Markets

Virtual panel – Wednesday, January 18, 7:00-8:00 pm EST

Panelists: Mark Buono '86 (Carter Real Estate Center, College of Charleston), Andy Pike '04 (Wells Fargo Securities)

In Careers for Students Seeking Graduate Degrees

Virtual panel – Wednesday February 15, 7:00-8:00 pm EST

Panelists: Claude Courbois '88 (NASDAQ Stock Exchange), Jonathan Pingle '03 (UBS, Blackrock, Federal Reserve), David Robinson '92 (Duke Econ), Ryan Wesslen '07 (Explosion)

In General Business (Profit and Non-profit Sectors)

Virtual Panel – Thursday February 23, 7:00-8:00 pm EST

Panelists: Courtney Cavatoni '93 (Non-profits), Scott Ogle '97 (TruLab), Mel Williams '88 (TrueBridge Capital), Brian Worrell '92 (General Electric)

The Panel sessions are moderated by Jay Bryson '80, '89 (Wells Fargo & Company).

PLEASE COME EAGER TO HEAR about the experiences of these former UNC Economics majors in their past and current professions. After introductions and a formal Q&A, the panel members will answer questions from the audience. We will offer breakout rooms at the end of the panel session so that students can talk to a particular panelist in a smaller setting.

Registered students will receive reminder emails with the zoom link.
